Stood Up.

Jake Troll, a butcher for W. S. Bailey, was passing in the vicinity of the S. P. water tanks in the eastern edge of town, at a late hour last night when he was commanded to throw up his hands by a couple of foot pads, armed with a six shooter, which they displayed dangerously near Troll's head. He only had a nickel, but they relieved him of that. The crime of robbery is becoming a common occurrence. Safe cracking and "hung ups" are of frequent occurrence now-a-days.—Gazette.

It is said that the highwaymen, who were strangers in Reno, stood up two more men, securing a nickel from each, and then invited Jake to have a beer with them. At last accounts they were headed for Carson.

THE WINNERS DEPART.—Last night the Carson Guard shooting team, who will compete for the championship at the Midwinter Fair departed for Oakland. There was a perfect jam at the train, and three rousing cheers were given as the train pulled out. The following gentlemen were selected to compose the team:

Messrs. Cowing, Thaxter, H. D. Galusha, Holbrook, Wilcox, Saffell, David, McCullough, Spencer, Cagwin and Mayo.

The band which was to give the boys a send off, failed to meet. There were a good many other people who went with the team to see the match and lend their encouragement.

Both Dying.

San Francisco, March 6.—Dr. J. J. Leek, a dentist, and Miss Alice Aldersley, a young woman who came to this city a few days ago from Napa, where her parents live, are lying between life and death in Leek's apartments on the corner of Fifth and Market streets. Both are suffering from morphine poisoning, but whether the drug was taken by both with suicidal intent, with the purpose to die together, or whether one tried to poison the other and then committed suicide will probably never be known, unless both recover which seems doubtful.

Six Men Killed.

Berlin, March 6.—A shocking accident took place this morning near Charlottenberg. An express train ran into a gang of railroad laborers at work on the track. Six men were killed outright and a dozen injured. The men were badly mangled.

NEVADA THE BATTLE GROUND.

Stock Company Formed to Have the Corbett-Jackson Fight in Reno.

Colonel E. D. Boyle and others are working in dead earnest for pulling off the Corbett-Jackson fight in this State, next June. All of the preliminaries are arranged for incorporating a joint stock company. The capital stock will be divided into 1,000 shares of the par value at $50 a share, and the entire amount has been subscribed.

The incorporators are Colonel E. D. Boyle, T. R. Hofer, J. E. Jones, Charles Colburn and H. M. Gorham. If the fight is secured, which is considered a foregone conclusion, a pavilion will be erected in the State Agricultural grounds at Reno.

The last Legislature passed an Act legalizing glove contests in this State and this is a guarantee that there will be no interference by peace officials. This, in addition to the $50,000 purse offered, will in all probability make Nevada the chosen battle ground, not only for the coming fight between the contestants for the world's championship, but will result in it being selected as the future meeting place of all the most important pugilistic encounters in the future.

In addition to the names mentioned above many other prominent and wealthy Nevadans are interested in the project, which is an assurance that any amount offered will be placed in the referee's hands the moment the contest is arranged.—Enterprise.

A few days ago a Chinaman wandered into Camp and struck Papa Peaks for the job of sawing his wood. "Saw one cord, splitty, piley, how much?" "One dollar hap," "No piley, how much?" "One dollar quarter," "No piley, no splitty, how much?" "One dollar." "No splitty, no piley, no sawee, how much?" "Six birtee."

Then the Chinaman paused a moment and began figuring, an expression of disgust passed over his face and he turned away. "See here, you make me heap damn foolce."—Midwinter Appeal.

LOCAL MINING PARAGRAPHS.

Consolidation of the Consolidated California & Virginia Less Favorable.

The break in price of Consolidated California & Virginia shares was the cause of various conflicting rumors on the street yesterday, and as the ore cut in advancing the raise above the 1000 level was the factor in producing the late sharp upward movement in that stock, Superintendent Lyman and James G. Rule were yesterday interviewed on the situation in that part of the mine with the following result:

Mr. Lyman who is very conservative in giving an opinion, said the ore is not showing so well as the raise is advanced, but further explorations may result in an improvement. "As long as there are favorable indications there is a chance for further discoveries," was the final remark made by the cautious superintendent.

Mr. Rule had not visited the mine yesterday on account of a cold contracted by leaving his hotel yesterday morning at the time of the fire in the lower part of the premises. He said it should be understood that the raise is being advanced above a crosscut in the vein and that the ore lies in blankets or sheets and an improvement is likely to occur at any time. In answer to a question whether the east crosscut, 117 feet north of the Best & Belcher line, was likely to cut the same body, he replied that the southern extension of the ore was likely to be encountered there.

This crosscut is being advanced about 180 feet south of the raise. The raise had been advanced 14 feet above the floor of the Rule drift yesterday.

An assessment of 25 cents per share was levied on the capital stock of the Savage Mining Company yesterday.—Enterprise.

SUTRO UPHOLD.—Judge Hawley Monday rendered a decision in the U. S. District Court in the case of Symes vs. the Sutro Tunnel Company in favor of the Company.

Every action of Sutro was upheld and every point in the case was decided in the Company's favor.

Judge Hawley said: "The contention of Joseph Aron seems to be that if Sutro had the reorganization of the Company it was all wrong, but if someone else had the reorganization it was all right, and in law he could not be permitted to wait and see the effect of his venture that he might jump on the winning side. There was no fraud, as the Board of Trustees had been fully advised all the time, and Sutro's fee of $100,000 was not exorbitant as it was a matter which required talents of a superior order."

"All the stockholders of the Company had been fully advised of every step taken by Sutro and could have protected their shares had they desired."

The decision involved the review of 5,000 pages of testimony, 800 pages of briefs, and 200 pages of pleadings. The Judge reviewed the evidence in full and quoted numerous authorities on every point of the decision. He commenced reading the evidence last July and the rendering of the decision occupied two and one half hours.
